TestPRO Launch

Two mechanical engineers have set up a new company following the closure of the AREVA Technical Centre.

Tim Buss and Neil Spibey, formerly of GEC, ALSTOM and AREVA bring 45 years of experience in mechanical engineering to their new venture, TestPRO Ltd. TestPRO offers a complete diagnosis and solution package for almost any mechanical problem by test and measurement. Neil and Tim aim to provide a professional service covering areas of expertise which many companies cannot handle internally. Rail related problems are a speciality.
